RESOLUTION

Considering that this case had been previously dismissed by the Court for lack of interest on the part of petitioners to prosecute their appeal in our resolution of August 31, 1987, although the dismissal was reconsidered in our resolution dated October 9, 1987, postponement of the hearing for no less than forty seven (47) times, majority of which at petitioners' behest, the pendency of this case since April 13, 1973, and considering further the non-appearance again of petitioners' counsel at the scheduled hearing on June 20, 1988 despite proper notice thereof, evincing disrespect of judicial proceedings, this Court, upon motion of respondent in open court, hereby orders the dismissal of the above-entitled case for lack of interest on the part of petitioners to prosecute their appeal.

SO ORDERED.
