THE ANTECEDENT FACTS

On October 26, 2022, an Information was filed against accused-appellee for violation of Section 254 of the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC) of 1997, as amended, the accusatory portion of which reads:

That on or before January 20, 2011, in Quezon City, Philippines, and within the jurisdiction of this Honorable Court, the above-named accused, a Filipino citizen, required by law to file his Quarterly Value-Added Tax Return (VAT return), did, then and there, willfully, unlawfully and feloniously attempt to evade and defeat payment of VAT for the fourth (4th) quarter of taxable year 2010, by stating in the entry fields of the said return the word "exempt", when in truth and in fact said accused is not exempted as he failed to comply with the substantiation and reporting requirement under the tax law and revenue regulations, which resulted to deficiency tax in the amount of Two Million Seven Hundred Ninety Four Thousand Eight Hundred Thirteen Pesos and Thirty Seven Centavos (Php2,794,813.37), exclusive of interests, penalties and surcharges to the damage and prejudice of the Government of the Republic of the Philippines.

Thereafter, the Court issued the 1st assailed Resolution on December 12, 2022 dismissing the above Information for failure of the prosecution to timely file the Information in Court within the five (5)-year prescriptive period.

Aggrieved, the plaintiff-appellant moved for reconsideration which was still denied for lack of merit in the 2nd assailed Resolution of the Court in Division.

Hence, this Petition.

THE PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE COURT EN BANC

On February 23, 2023, this Court received plaintiff-appellant's Verified Petition for Review filed via registered mail on February 20, 2023.⁴

Plaintiff-appellant then filed its Manifestation with Motion on March 15, 2023 praying that the title of the case be corrected from "BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE" to "PEOPLE OF THE PHILIPPINES" as the plaintiff-appellant.⁵ On May 18, 2023, this Court granted the same and ordered the accused-appellee to file his comment/opposition to the Verified Petition for Review.⁶

Thereafter, the counsel for accused-appellee filed a *Notice of Appearance*⁷ on July 12, 2023 which was noted by the Court on July 17, 2023.⁸

On July 27, 2023, accused-appellee filed his Comment/Opposition (Re: Verified Petition for Review of the Resolution dated 31 January 2023).⁹

This case was submitted for decision on August 14, 2023.¹⁰

THE ISSUE

In plaintiff-appellant's Verified Petition for Review, the sole error raised was that the Court in Division erred when it found no probable cause to charge accused-appellee Loo Tian for Section 254 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, or willful attempt to evade or defeat tax for the fourth (4th) quarter of taxable year (TY) 2010.

THE ARGUMENTS

Plaintiff-appellant interposes the following arguments in support of its petition:

- A. Prescription has not set in as the period of discovery and the institution of judicial proceedings for violation of Section 254 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, not only triggers the commencement of the prescriptive period but, at the same time, triggers the interruption of the same prescriptive period; and,
- B. Accused-appellee should be held liable for willful attempt to evade or defeat tax for the 4th quarter of TY 2010 in violation of Section 254 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended.

On the other hand, accused-appellee counter-argues that:

- A. The right of the government to prosecute him has prescribed under Section 281 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended; and,
- B. The case must be dismissed for violation of the accused's right to speedy disposition of cases as the plaintiff took more than ten (10) years from the filing of the complaint to the filing of the Information in the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA).

THE RULING OF THE COURT

The Verified Petition for Review lacks merit.

The instant Verified Petition for Review was timely filed.

Records show that, on January 5, 2023,¹¹ plaintiff-appellant received the 1st assailed Resolution dismissing the case on the ground of prescription, to which plaintiff-appellant moved for reconsideration on January 10, 2023.¹²

On January 31, 2023, the Court in Division issued the 2nd assailed Resolution denying plaintiff-appellant's Motion for Reconsideration which resolution was received by the latter on February 9, 2023.¹³

Section 9(b) of Rule 9 of the Revised Rules of Court of Tax Appeals (RRCTA) provides:

SEC. 9. Appeal; period to appeal. — xxx xxx xxx

- (b) An appeal to the Court en banc in criminal cases decided by the Court in Division shall be taken by filing a petition for review as provided in Rule 43 of the Rules of Court within fifteen days from receipt of a copy of the decision or resolution appealed from. The Court may, for good cause, extend the time for filing of the petition for review for an additional period not exceeding fifteen days. (Emphasis supplied)

Based on the foregoing, plaintiff-appellant had fifteen (15) days from receipt of the 2nd assailed Resolution on February 9, 2023, or until February 24, 2023, within which to file its Petition for Review. Since February 24, 2023 (Friday) was declared a special non-working day,¹⁴ plaintiff-appellant had until February 27, 2023 (Monday), the next working day, to file the Petition before the Court En Banc.

Plaintiff-appellant, thus, timely filed the instant Verified Petition for Review on February 20, 2023.¹⁵

That having been settled, the Court shall now proceed to the main issue in the present petition.

The government's right to prosecute the case has already prescribed.

In resolving the issue of prescription of the offense charged, the following should be considered: (1) the period of prescription for the offense charged; (2) the time the period of prescription starts to run; and, (3) the time the prescriptive period is interrupted.¹⁶

There is no dispute as to the first and second considerations. The issue, however, lies with the third consideration.

For an orderly disposition of the issues, however, the Court will briefly discuss the first and second considerations before proceeding to the third consideration.

First: The prescriptive period of subject violation under the NIRC of 1997, as amended, is five (5) years.

The first consideration may be found in Section 281 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, which provides for the five (5)- year prescriptive period as follows:

SEC. 281. Prescription for Violations of any Provision of this Code.
- All violations of any provision of this Code shall prescribe after five (5) years.

Prescription shall begin to run from the day of the commission of the violation of the law, and if the same be not known at the time, from the discovery thereof and the institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment.

The prescription shall be interrupted when proceedings are instituted against the guilty persons and shall begin to run again if the proceedings are dismissed for reasons not constituting jeopardy.

The term of prescription shall not run when the offender is absent from the Philippines. (Emphasis supplied)

Inasmuch as accused-appellee was charged for violation of Section 254 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, the applicable prescriptive period is five (5) years as provided above.

Second: The day of the commission of the subject violation is unknown; hence, the prescriptive period began to run upon its discovery and the institution of judicial proceedings on July 5, 2012.

As to the second consideration (i.e., commencement of the prescriptive period), Section 281 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, provides for two (2) reckoning points from when the period of prescription begins to run:

- (1) If the day of commission is known, prescription begins to run from the day of the commission of the violation of the law;
- or,

People of the Philippines vs. Ziegfried Loo Tian

- (2) If the day of the commission is unknown, from its discovery and the institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment.

In the assailed Resolutions, the Court in Division applied the second rule which the plaintiff-appellant likewise avers to be applicable in its Verified Petition for Review.

A perusal of the Information shows that the violation alleged therein is that the accused “willfully, unlawfully and feloniously attempt to evade and defeat payment of VAT for the fourth (4th) quarter of taxable year 2010, by stating in the entry fields of the said return the word ‘exempt’, when in truth and in fact said accused is not exempted [...]”. Such being an omission and misrepresentation on the part of the accused, the day of the commission of the violation is unknown until the same is discovered. Thus, the Court En Banc agrees with the finding of the Court in Division that the commencement of the prescriptive period is from the discovery of the commission and the institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment.

In *Emilio E. Lim, Sr. and Antonia Sun Lim vs. Court of Appeals and People of the Philippines*¹⁷ (Lim case), the Supreme Court discussed the commencement of the prescriptive period where the day of the commission of the violation is not known and what is contemplated by the term “judicial proceedings”, to wit:

With regard to Criminal Cases Nos. 1790 and 1791 which dealt with petitioners' filing of fraudulent consolidated income tax returns with intent to evade the assessment decreed by law, petitioners contend that the said crimes have likewise prescribed. They advance the view that the five-year period should be counted from the date of discovery of the alleged fraud which, at the latest, should have been October 15, 1964, the date stated by the Appellate Court in its resolution of April 4, 1978 as the date the fraudulent nature of the returns was unearthed.

On behalf of the Government, the Solicitor General counters that the crime of filing false returns can be considered ‘discovered’ only after the manner of commission, and the nature and extent of the fraud have been definitely ascertained. It was only on October 10, 1967 when the BIR rendered its final decision holding that there was no ground for the reversal of the assessment and therefore required the petitioners to pay ₱1,237,190.55 in deficiency taxes that the tax infractions were discovered.

Not only that. The Solicitor General stresses that Section 354 speaks not only of discovery of the fraud but also institution of judicial proceedings. Note the conjunctive word ‘and’ between the phrases ‘the discovery thereof' and 'the institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and proceedings.' In other words, in addition to the fact of discovery, there must be a judicial proceeding for the investigation and punishment of the tax offense before the five-year limiting period begins to run. It was on September 1, 1969 that the offenses subject of Criminal Cases Nos. 1790 and 1791 were indorsed to the Fiscal's Office for preliminary investigation. Inasmuch as a preliminary investigation is a proceeding for investigation and punishment of a crime, it was only on September 1, 1969 that the prescriptive period commenced.

The Court is inclined to adopt the view of the Solicitor General. For while that particular point might have been raised in the Ching Lak case, the Court, at that time, did not give a definitive ruling which would have settled the question once and for all. As Section 354 stands in the statute book (and to this day it has remained unchanged) it would indeed seem that tax cases, such as the present ones, are practically imprescriptible for as long as the period from the discovery and institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment, up to the filing of the information in court does not exceed five (5) years. (Emphasis supplied.)

Based on foregoing discussions, if the day of the commission of the violation of the law is not known, the five (5)-year prescriptive period begins to run from:

- (1) Discovery; and,
- (2) Institution of judicial proceedings (i.e., offense is indorsed to the Prosecutor's Office for preliminary investigation).

In the instant case, since, by the nature of the violation charged against the accused, the day of the commission of the violation is not known, the prescriptive period begins to run when the violation is discovered and the case was indorsed by the CIR for preliminary investigation to the DOJ on July 5, 2012.

Third: The prescriptive period was interrupted by the filing of the Information with the CTA.

The present controversy is with the third consideration, particularly, when the period of prescription is interrupted.

Plaintiff-appellant claims that the discovery and the institution of judicial proceedings not only trigger the commencement of the prescriptive period but also trigger the interruption of the same prescriptive period pursuant to Section 281 of the NIRC of 1997, as amended. It likewise invokes

Section 1 of Rule 110 of the Revised Rules on Criminal Procedure which provides:

SECTION 1. Institution of criminal actions. — Criminal actions shall be instituted as follows:

- (a) For offenses where a preliminary investigation is required pursuant to Section 1 of Rule 112, by filing the complaint with the proper officer for the purpose of conducting the requisite preliminary investigation;
- (b) For all other offenses, by filing the complaint or information directly with the Municipal Trial Courts and Municipal Circuit Trial Courts, or the complaint with the office of the prosecutor. In Manila and other chartered cities, the complaint shall be filed with the office of the prosecutor unless otherwise provided in their charters.

The institution of the criminal action shall interrupt the running of the period of prescription of the offense charged unless otherwise provided in special laws.

As such, plaintiff-appellant maintains that prescription has not set in as the filing of the complaint with the DOJ for the conduct of preliminary investigation triggered both the commencement and interruption of the running of the prescriptive period.

This Court cannot subscribe to such interpretation.

As early as 1990, the Supreme Court has held in the Lim case¹⁸ that the prescriptive period is interrupted by the filing of the Information in court. Specifically, it was declared therein that tax cases are practically imprescriptible for as long as the period from the discovery and institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment, up to the filing of the information in court does not exceed five (5) years.

In 2005, the Supreme Court approved A.M. No. 05-11-07-CTA, otherwise known as the RRCTA, which provided that the prescriptive period for violations of the NIRC of 1997, inter alia, is interrupted by the filing of an information before the Court, consistent with the pronouncement in the Lim case.¹⁹ Specifically, Section 2 of Rule 9 of the RRCTA reads:

SEC. 2. Institution of criminal actions. — All criminal actions before the Court in Division in the exercise of its original jurisdiction shall be instituted by the filing of an information in the name of the People of the Philippines. In criminal actions involving violations of the National Internal Revenue Code and other laws enforced by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue must approve their filing. In criminal actions involving violations of the Tariff and Customs Code and other laws enforced by the Bureau of Customs, the Commissioner of Customs must approve their filing.

The institution of the criminal action shall interrupt the running of the period of prescription. (Emphasis supplied)

Based on the foregoing, criminal cases falling within the jurisdiction of the Court in Division is instituted by filing of the information before the said Court. Such institution of the criminal action before the Court shall interrupt the running of the period of prescription.

Evidently, plaintiff-appellant's reliance on Rule 110 of the Revised Rules on Criminal Procedure is misplaced considering that it only applies suppletorily to the RRCTA²⁰ and that the latter specifically provides that criminal actions are instituted by the filing of an information before the CTA which filing shall interrupt the running of the prescriptive period.

In view of the foregoing disquisitions, the running of the prescriptive period is interrupted by the filing of the information before the Court and not by the filing of the complaint before the DOJ.

As correctly found by the Court in Division, the right to prosecute the criminal action herein has prescribed.

Counting from the discovery of the violation of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, and the institution of the judicial proceeding for preliminary investigation (i.e., CIR's referral of the case to the DOJ) on July 5, 2012, the Information should have been filed before this Court within five (5) years from July 5, 2012, or until July 5, 2017. Clearly, when the instant Information was filed before this Court on October 26, 2022, more than five (5) years have passed since the government's right to institute a criminal action prescribed.

In fine, the Court En Banc finds no compelling reason to reverse the Court in Division's assailed Resolutions.

²⁰ Section 3 of Rule 1 of the RRCTA provides that "[t]he Rules of Court in the Philippines shall apply suppletorily to these Rules."
